

PLAIN

Plain

PLAIN sliding door line is an especially produced door system by observing the current trends of this moment in the constructive structure and appearance of furniture. The design of case profile is formed as a minimally visible line accent in the vertical sides of doors. They clearly mark the visible guideline and highlight the material of door facade, texture thereof. PLAIN door line is created as single-sided or double-sided door system with 4 mm glass packing material. The case profile silver anodizing tone additionally emphasizes the fashionable appearance of decorative glass or mirror packing, thus imparting a unique visual effect and making the main accent of the room.

Plain

Thanks to the special form of case, PLAIN sliding doors can be used both as inter-space delimitating doors and as doors of built-in wardrobes. Application thereof depends on the function of the room and requirements of usage.

The constructive structure of PLAIN sliding doors is similar to other analogues of sliding doors – aluminium case (vertical and horizontal profiles) with resistance elements and decorative glass packing attached to the facade.

Plain hinge door

PLAIN system is available also in swing door version. The modification of these doors are mainly provided for mounting in furniture corps or in specially prepared alcoves. The version of swing doors usually is offered with bilateral glass packing.

The swing doors PLAIN consists of plastically forms, a bit incurved handle, that harmonically includes into the total shape of doors. The hinges of the swing doors have specially created design with the fastening at the ends of the vertical profiles. It allows to create more compact hinge mechanisms and ensures excellent and modern visual appearance.

Plain additional items

Additional items of PLAIN sliding and swing doors ensure the necessary solutions of installation and convenient use of doors in different situations.

PLAIN handle of rectangular shape harmonically includes into the total shape of doors. It rises plainly over the packing plane and ensures convenient opening of doors.

The usage of the different additional items (mini ledges, vertical side brushes, lockers of screws, mechanisms, etc.) facilitate an individual approach to creation of doors and allows to create it according to the surrounding interior.

Official distributor:

